

Accidental Blast From Shotgun Kills Boy

Ronald Cooper, 10,
Shot At Friend's Home
While Playing In Yard

Death from an accidental shotgun wound came suddenly for a Granite City child Friday morning.

Ronald Dale Cooper, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Max Cooper, 707 Twenty-ninth place, died at St. Elizabeth Hospital shortly after a blast from a 12-gauge shotgun discharged by a playmate, struck him in the upper right chest.

Granite City police reported the boy was shot in the yard at the home of Alonzo Boker, 2902 N. Main St. drive. He was rushed by ambulance to the hospital at 10:30 a.m. and died in the operating room at 1:00 p.m. authorities said. Deputy Coroner Henry Pieper said an inquest will be held.

His playmate, Clifford Boker, nine, told police he and the slain child went out to a storage shed in his backyard, and that Cooper remained outside the door.

Louds Shotgun
Inside, the Boker boy took an old shotgun belonging to his father from a chest of drawers. He loaded it with a shell from another drawer, and walked toward the shed door, outside of which the other boy was standing.

He had his thumb on the hammer, holding it back, he said. Then the gun fired.

The Boker boy heard the other youngster cry out. Mortally wounded, the Cooper boy stumbled toward the house and then collapsed.

John Boker, 15, was moving the lawn in the back of the shed and came running when he heard the gun discharge. He took to the scene and had a neighbor call an ambulance.

The ambulance driver found the boy a few minutes later, lying in a pool of bloodstained grass. Clifford Boker, dazed after earlier crying, told police he was only playing with the gun. He said it "backfired."

Fired At Close Range
Police surmised the shot had been fired at a range less than six feet.

Born in Poplar Bluff, Mo., the Cooper boy would be the fourth-grader at the Logan school. His father is employed by Granite City Steel Co.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by two brothers, Richard Duane and Dennis Eugene Cooper; two sisters, Cheryl Kay and Kathy Sue Cooper; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cooper of Gresham, Ore., and a maternal grandfather, Mrs. Leona Morse, of Granite City.

Services were held this morning at a Granite City funeral home, with burial following at Sunset Hill Cemetery. Arrangements are given in the obituary column.

$700 Loss As Safe Is Broken At Friedman's

An estimated $700 in cash and merchandise was stolen from the safe of the Friedman furniture and hardware firm, Fifth street and Madison avenue, over the holiday weekend. Eight other thefts occurred in this area and a man was arrested for passing bad checks.

The burglary was discovered moments after Gene Plattner, appliance manager, unlocked the front door at 7:55 a.m. today.

A massive five-foot safe, located in the office section, had been forcefully opened and looted. Stolen were two pistols—a 38-caliber revolver and 25-caliber. In addition to the two guns valued at $50 each, four watches valued at $25 each and an estimated $500 in cash were taken.

Used Tools From Store
The thieves broke into the safe by using tools belonging to the hardware store. Madison police discovered near the battered safe a badly-nicked hatchet, a three-pound hand sledge hammer and two crowbars. All were new tools.

The hatchet blade and sledge hammer apparently were used to peel back the metal skin on the safe door. Then the hammer and bars were employed to crack the pink cement filler material and gain entrance to the strong box.

Both police and the owners believe the robbery took place between Sunday at 1 p.m. and early this morning. No marks were visible on any of the entrance doors or windows.

Investigating police believe that the intruders wore gloves. The merchandise counters and appliances obstructed the view of the safe as it was being opened.

Nab Check Passer
Alerted by a businessman, Madison police waited by the auto of Walter B. Caudill, 29 Route One, Collinsville, and arrested him in Madison Saturday afternoon for making a check to defraud. He admitted cashing a $33 check at the Schermer Brothers Market in August and a $9 check Saturday at Glick's Madison store.

Transferred to the county jail in lieu of $5000 bond, Caudill is to be returned here Friday evening for a hearing.

Told by the prisoner that he has passed other checks in Madison county, St. Clair county and St. Louis, the police advised other departments in this area and he is in custody.

Barbells Stolen
A set of barbells and weights, worth about $100, was stolen from the garage of Frank La.

$1337 Cut In Venice City Levy For 1960

85 Whiteway Lights Sought; Curfew Voted, Closing Law Planned

A $290,456 tax levy, down $1337 from a year ago, was adopted by the Venice city council Friday night.

Adopted seven weeks after a $37,603 budget increase, the levy cut is based on the new budget but takes into account cash reserves and receipts from non-tax sources. It was the second year in a row that the city has been cut, last year's $291,793 measure representing a $31,810 decrease.

In adopting the 1960 levy, the council listed the 1959-61 budget of $263,556, deducting $78,500 in balances and receipts and adding $5000 for the working cash fund. Specific authorization was given for levying the maximum rate of 20.33 cents for street purposes.

The $78,500 deducted consists of $30,000 in the library account for construction of an addition, $30,000 in the general fund from cash on hand and anticipated income, and $18,500 from the McKimley Bridge.

$4000 in city liquor licenses; $2500 in fines by the police magistrate; and $4000 in Venice township road taxes.

For Bills Next Spring
Eight special levies totaled $195,775, and the general levy amounted to $94,680. The $290,456 total will be applied against the city's assessed valuation to determine the new tax rate; this rate then will be applied against individual property for next spring's tax bills.

The $363,056 budget compares with a $329,353 high for 1959-60 and $262,481 actual spending in 1959-60.

Salary increases of $25 a month were a factor in the budget boost, along with proposed construction of a street department laborer, repair and construction of sidewalks, city hall alterations, new police radios and a larger garbage collection staff.

Broadway, Main Lighting
In other business Friday night, the council voted to ask the Illinois Power Co. to install about 85 whiteway street lights along Broadway from the eastern city limits to Main street and along Main street from Broadway to Kerr street.

Each of the mercury vapor lights is to have 20,000 lumens of light intensity. The improvement has been under discussion for some time.

The council also approved a 10 p.m.-to-6 a.m. curfew for every day of the week, replacing a 10 p.m. law on Sunday through Thursday.

Residents said representatives of the sheriff's office were stopping cars along the road Friday night and early Saturday morning, questioning the motorists about their destination. Contacted today, Chief Deputy Joseph Kellermann said he knew of no special investigation Friday but that deputies check the area frequently.

7 Firemen Hurt In Auto Garage Fire, Explosions

$150,000 Damage From
Blaze At Hundley Co.;
Origin Undetermined

Expanding oil, paint and gasoline drums and flames billowing over 100 feet in the air turned the Hundley Pontiac Co. into a $150,000 inferno at 5 p.m. Saturday, sending seven Granite City firemen to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The wail of fire sirens was followed within minutes by the screaming arrival of ambulances at the scene—the one-bus 18th street and Madison avenue intersection suddenly crisscrossed by water lines and red-dened by the glow of the savagely-burning auto showroom and repair garage.

Working frantically to protect underground gasoline tanks at nearby service stations, the firefighters ignored the intense heat and 95-degree temperature but soon began fainting. Two were administered oxygen while on the ground and were among five admitted to the hospital after losing consciousness and were released Sunday morning. Another fireman was injured in being knocked down by the force of one of the frequent explosions, and the seventh was treated after stepping on a nail.

Originating in the rear of the automotive repair shop, the blaze quickly spread and engulfed nine autos and a pickup truck inside the garage.

New Cars Ruined
Three new cars in the front showroom, only part of the building left standing, were badly damaged by the heat, smoke and water. Two new autos parked just outside the building were too close to be moved and were damaged by the falling brick wall, and three autos were damaged in Hundley's used car lot at 18th street and Grand avenue.

Walter Hundley, owner, who had closed the agency about 4:30 p.m. Saturday, told the Press-Record yesterday that an electrical short-circuit may have been responsible for the blaze. Electrically-operated automatic garage doors were seen to open after the fire was discovered by the operator of an adjacent service station.

Harold Gangnath, SIBA executive secretary, said union officials advised the builders of their decision to accept the contract offer of hourly raises reaching 35 cents in the third year, and that the contract is to be retroactive to Aug. 1, with an initial raise of 10 cents, 20 percent scheduled during the present year and another 25 percent in 1962.

New three-year contracts are in force between SIBA and the Tri-County District Council of Carpenters, Cement Masons, Joiners and the Madison County District Council of Carpenters.

A one-year contract negotiated by Laborers' Local 100 of East St. Louis and 397 of Granite City, effective Aug. 1, contained a 30-cent hourly increase.

Most of the firm's records were lost, but a few were recovered and the business office will be open beginning today at a downtown location where new car sales also will be handled. The service manager will be there to arrange for auto repairs in cooperation with several other local garages, Hundley said.

GC, Parochial Classes Begin

The 1960-61 school term opened this morning at public schools in the Granite City community unit district and at five Quad-City parochial schools. Classes began last Monday, Aug. 29, at Madison and Venice public schools.

Newly placed in use today were the new West 25th street junior high school and a 16-classroom addition to Granite City high school. A second addition to the high school will be finished this fall. Installation of a black-top playground surface was well underway today at Central junior high but the work did not interfere with the start of classes.

Car Collides With Tree
William R. Henley, 28, of 3035 Ash avenue was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment after his southbound car left the pavement and struck a tree head-on at 2621 Madison avenue at 3:25 a. m. Sunday.

Taken to the hospital by ambulance, Henley said his car may have been sideswiped by an unknown auto, causing him to lose control of the vehicle. He suffered a large laceration to the right leg and a fracture to the chest, left leg and left arm.

Five Hurt In Crash
Five persons suffered minor injuries in a three-car crash at the intersection of Faith and Myrtle avenues Thursday evening, and one driver was arrested by Granite City police for careless driving.

John W. Wilber, 22, of 2228 Washington avenue was arrested after his southbound vehicle pushed a westbound vehicle driven by Larry Burns, 16, of 2712 Dale avenue into an eastbound car.

Train Hits Auto Caught On Tracks

No injuries occurred when a Chicago and Northwestern Railroad train struck the auto of Robert E. Hoppe, 33, of 2438 Terminal avenue at 5:47 p.m. Sunday at the Maryville road crossing south of the Glenview subdivision.

Hoppe had been driving south across the tracks when the bottom of his car caught on a rail at the sharp crest of a hill. Gerald Barton, St. Louis, plumber, used his auto in trying to push the Hoppe car off the tracks, but their efforts were not in time due to the rapid approach of the train.

Car Towed Away
The left side and front of the Hoppe auto were damaged, and it was towed to a garage.

There was damage to an airplane on the train which was operated by Engineer Floyd Schmidt of Edwardsville, A. E. Rosenthal of New Douglas was the conductor.

BULLETIN Bus Cleared Just Before Train Strikes

About 60 school pupils narrowly escaped injury at 12:30 p. m. today when a southbound freight train struck their stalled school bus seconds after they had left it at the Mitchell crossing.

As the bus was proceeding east on Bypass 66 across the tracks, the engine died and it came to a stop with the front end barely jutting into the path of an oncoming train.

"The driver herded the children out of the bus, and he told me he had just carried the last one off seconds before the train hit," Abbie Paul, Mitchell garage operator, told the Press-Record.

"They had not had time to get very far, and it's lucky the train only clipped the front of the bus and did not spin it around," Paul related.

"We were cut off by the train and were unable to help the driver, but we could tell the train must have been going at least 40 miles an hour. It stayed on the tracks but kept going for a long distance."

No children were injured. Brenda Gregory, 16, eighth grade at West Junior high, was treated for shock at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Three new cars in the front showroom, only part of the building left standing, were badly damaged by the heat, smoke and water. Two new autos parked just outside the building were too close to be moved and were damaged by the falling brick wall, and three autos were damaged in Hundley's used car lot at 18th street and Grand avenue.

TYPICAL MEETING of a Boy Scout patrol. The patrols form the scout troop itself, and each patrol unit is self-governing, being headed by an older scout. Here a group is shown reviewing its program. General supervision is provided by the scoutmaster, who is leader of the troop.

A United Fund Agency

Boy Scout Program Has Breadth And Depth

"Youth is too wonderful a time to waste on children," George Bernard Shaw once said. His point was that the youth's reservoir of energy too often is not correctly channeled. Waste to him meant time spent purposelessly, with no consideration of the future.

Had he lived a little later, Shaw probably would have become a scoutmaster for a Boy Scout troop, for the scout program offers what he thought to be meaningful activity for boys eight through eighteen.

The purpose of the Boy Scout program supported by the United Fund can be stated simply. Realizing that scouts will become the scientists, educators and decision-makers of the future, scout leaders attempt to provide them with the needed preparation. Hence the three-fold program of outdoor life, community service and self-advancement.

1710 Members Here
In the Quad-City area — the Uniwash District of the Cahokia Mound Council — 1710 boys are either Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts or Explorers. The percentage of boys of scout age in the program is high in relation to other parts of the country, with 36 per cent in this area taking part.

The success of scouting locally has been attributed to the high degree of interest adults have shown. Adult leaders in this area number over 700, meaning approximately every three Scouts have the direct supervision of an adult leader.

Locally, too, scouts are especially active in the area of community service. They go door-to-door at election time, urging residents to be certain to vote. They also place leaflets on auto windshields reminding drivers of their responsibility to vote.

Throughout the year, the scouts distribute posters to local merchants for adult civic groups. In the spring each year, the boys canvass the area collecting special project bags of clothing and other donations for Goodwill Industries, which employs the handicapped.

Trained For Emergencies
In case of disaster, even the youngest cub would be prepared to aid in safety work because of his training in emergency mobilization. Recently, for example, the boys practiced rescue program and 1500 adults act as work by staging a "lost child" hunt.

At the beginning of each year, the council holds a meeting of the first-aid in which each Scout is given a first-aid kit and a manual. Through the offices, taught the fundamental procedure of first-aid, schedules are made of wound dressing, splinting and other emergency measures.

In its outdoor program, scouting offers its youngest boys equal opportunities with the oldest to learn outdoor activities, church, school and clubs. The boys are eligible to become members of a cub pack when they are eight years old. In this area, 23 packs include 860 boys between the ages of eight and eleven. They hold their own den meetings with the help of a den chief, a full scoutmaster and a full scout leader.

The young boys study nature, take hikes and prepare for the time when they will trade their blue uniforms for the brown of the scouts.

Weekly Meetings
Boy Scouts number 700 in this area. The boys, age 11 through 14, are grouped in 27 troops. During the winter months, their agenda includes a weekly troop meeting at which project plans are made, skills are taught and maintenance of the camp is discussed. Camp Sunnen is open during the winter months. During the summer, the out-door program opens full flood. Dan Brown, who scuttles back as nearly all the scouts spend a week at Camp Sunnen and have their own facilities for swimming, fishing, camping and a hundred other outdoor activities.

The scout program comes to full flower when the boys reach Explorer level. At this level, the scouts have open to them counseling in choice of careers, training in the latest innovations in science and direct their own projects.

This year, an engineer from McDonnell Aircraft Corp. met five times with explorer posts to explain his company's work in Project Mercury, which will send United States astronauts into space. Eleven explorer posts number 150 boys in the Quad-Cities.

The figures listed include only the number of scouts in this area, the Uniwash District. In the whole of the Cahokia Mound Council, covering Edwardsville, Collinsville, Highland and Bond counties, in addition to the local was sent recently at $39,500.

Paddlers Present Holiday Swimming Program With 2000 In Attendance

Paddlers, Inc. 2121 Johnson rd., held a Labor Day program Sunday afternoon with over 2000 witnessing swimming and diving exhibitions and contests, and movies presented by pool members.

The day's program began with the three and four-year-old children demonstrating the swimming techniques taught in the pools swimming classes by Keith Parker and Don Brumley. They were Mitzie and Diane Grady, Donna and Mary Williamson, Scott Bigham, Denise Kaleri and Janet Spinks. This is the first season for swimming instructions for this age group.

The competitive events began with a race for the five and six-year-olds and was won by Carol Lassio, first, Gary Zimmer, second, and Ed Yeager, third.

A 20-meter race in the seven and eight-year-old group was won in 28 seconds by Jackie Evers, with Allan Nancey, and Corky Bolton placing second and third. The girls in this age group who competed were Mary Evers, first, 27.7 seconds; Sue Hogan, second, and Ann Ruppman, third.

Nine and ten-year-old boys who won in the 25-meter race were Roy Love, first in 20.7 seconds, Douglas Law, second, and Larry Thompson, third. Winners in girls' competition were Debbie Evers, first, 21.5; Donna Baehr, second, and Kathy Yeager, third.

To Don Face Guards
The 1943 men who are licensed to blow whistles on the field during Illinois high school football games will have to impose a rule this year that may cause some complaining among old-timers.

The rules, for the first time, require each player to wear "a suitable face protector." At one point in the nation's history, any high school player who trotted the field wearing anything in front of his face was sure of getting smeared on the next play.

Now every boy in the game will have a "fence" around his nose.

3 Local Girls Win In Baton Competition
Three local girls won top awards in their age groups during a two-day Lincoln Memorial Baton contest in Springfield on Saturday and Sunday.

They were Debbie Presley, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Presley, Rural Route One; Carol Ann Biggs, 9, daughter of Mrs. Pat Biggs, 2504 Center street, and Judy Jakich, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jakich, 1406 Washington avenue.

Debbie won a first place trophy in an advanced solo division, a second place medal in a high throw contest and trophies for second place in twirling and fourth place in strutting.

Carol won first place trophies in twirling and flag swinging and two third place awards, in flag swinging and strutting. While Judy placed first in solo twirling and second in strutting and flag twirling.

Mugs See Cardinals Play, Get Trophies
Members of the Barney's Mugs baseball team, which finished in first place in the Ty Cobb league of the Bantam division in the Granite City park, were runners-up in the playoffs, attended the Cardinal-Cub baseball game at Busch Stadium Friday night.

On Saturday evening, the team met at Wilson Park, where trophies won by the boys were presented by Coach John Haynes and Art Schrieber. The team then went in a group to Barney's Drive-in to present the team sponsors with trophies.

Barnes Wins Singles Title At Burlington
Title At Burlington, Mo. — Upset first-seeded Richie Strauss of Iowa City, Ia., in the finals of the annual Tri-State Tennis Tournament at Burlington, Mo., yesterday.

Barnes, seeded second, downed Strauss in straight sets, 6-1 and 6-2. The division included 52 entrants from Michigan, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri.

Higher Voting Percentage In Illinois Than Many States, But It Should Be Improved

Registration drives currently being conducted by the two major political parties are no doubt politically inspired, but the nation will benefit if both are successful in persuading more people to register and then cast ballots in November.

Of the 107,000,000 Americans who will be of voting age on Nov. 8, only about 65,000,000 are likely to reach the polls. This is regarded as an optimistic estimate, and it should be remembered that the largest vote in U. S. history, recorded in the 1956 presidential election, totaled only 62,000,000.

The 42,000,000 not expected to help decide between the Kennedy-Johnson and Nixon-Lodge tickets and candidates for other offices include 13,000,000 "invented non-voters." Conditions preventing them from participating are residence requirements, poll taxes, literacy tests, residence in the District of Columbia and all federal property, and bans on voting by convicts and those in mental hospitals.

The remaining 29,000,000 are the people who either lack sufficient interest to register or are too ill or aged to take part. They are the targets of both major political parties, the AFL-CIO League of Women Voters, General Federation of Women's Clubs and other groups seeking a large turnout of voters.

The need for such get-out-the-vote campaigns is apparent. With only 60.4% voting four years ago and a record 63% in 1952, when the number of voters was smaller, the United States is far behind most European democracies, the jury of which tally between 78% and 97% participation in their elections.

Illinois is doing somewhat better than the national average, with 75.1% in 1952 and 72.5% in 1956, but it is still well behind the European nations and such states as Connecticut, Idaho and Utah. All otherwise eligible voters in this area should make it a point to become registered and then to vote this fall.

U. S. Economy Affording More For More People Than Anywhere, Anytime

Do Americans actually have enough income to support themselves adequately? There are bound to be exceptions to the rule, but a new Labor Department report on 20 metropolitan areas shows average family income of $7,000 to $7,500 and an income of $5,570 (Houston) to $6,567 (Chicago) required for a "modest but adequate level of living." The St. Louis area requirement for this standard is $6,266.

The department's figures are based on standards developed for a family of four living in a large city or suburb in rented quarters. The husband is 38 years old, his wife does not work outside their home and they have a son, 13, and daughter, eight. The family is entirely imaginary, representing statistical averages, and the reasons for its living costs varying include prices, climate and local patterns of living.

In determining what is "adequate," the government considered the views of families as well as experts' opinions on nutrition and shelter needs. Compared to 1951, the new standard includes more meat and other preferred foods, more meals away from home, larger allowances for household operation, more telephone service, more reading and recreation, including a television set, and takes into account the widespread development of hospital and medical care insurance.

It seems to be human nature that a family automatically acquires higher "minimum" standards as its income allows. There is always another purchase or another service that seems not only desirable but essential. No nation can provide everything for everyone, of course, but it seems sure that the United States and its private enterprise system is affording more for more people than any other place or time in history.

All Benefit From Favorable Tax Climate For Industries

Importance of new industry to a community is being cited by the Illinois Manufacturers' Association in urging state political leaders to adopt platforms recognizing the value to all citizens of plentiful jobs in manufacturing.

This is the leading category of employment in Illinois and it is estimated that an increase of only 100 new manufacturing jobs in an area means an annual increase of $590,000 in personal income and $360,000 in retail sales, IMA Secretary E. E. Hart reports.

In urging platforms that encourage industrial expansion, Hart says the working man is the first one injured when a state increases business taxes and reduces the amount corporations may retain to finance expansion. He adds that the greatest danger is when organized minorities successfully pressure for increasing costs of doing business and thus prevent industry from remaining competitive with its counterparts in other states.

The work-in-man is the platform writer who looks for the vanished job or who would like to have the job that failed to materialize, the platform writers have been told.

It is true that conditions in other states must be considered for Quad-City and other Illinois industries are in direct competition with plants in other states, and Illinois communities are directly affected if a new industry locates elsewhere due to a more favorable taxing atmosphere.

A three-point plan submitted for consideration by the Democratic and Republican committees calls for opposition to any type of state income tax, opposition to policies restricting manufacturing firms in their competitive endeavors in national and world markets, and support of sound state financing — relating state spending programs to the ability of the economy to support them, with regard for adoption of economies and reduction in expenditures wherever possible.

Both governor candidates have announced opposition to a state income tax. Growing cost pressures already are creating many serious problems for manufacturers, and the state would be rendering a disservice to Illinois citizens if it placed unnecessary and politically-inspired burdens upon present and prospective industries.

It is wrong to assume that people with more money than you do not have money troubles.

Few people have sense enough to appreciate constructive criticism.

Registered Voters Lacking Cards Should Contact County

Miss Eulalia Hotz, Madison county clerk, has asked that registered voters contact her if they have not yet received their 1960-64 voter registration certificates.

The cards serve to identify the voter to poll officials, and they are required at most elections. The new cards, sent out every four years to all voters carried on the permanent registration records, are mailed under a bulk mailing permit as fourth class matter, with postage at a rate of 2½ cents for delivery to the addressee.

If undeliverable at the address listed, the last address shown on the voter's permanent registration files, return postage at the same rate is guaranteed.

Keep On File
Undelivered cards returned are then placed in an "abeyance" file, and if a new address for such voters can be learned the records are brought up to date and a new "I-D" card mailed. Miss Hotz reported.

The permanent registration card does not permit her to remove the registration cards from permanent files where evidence is obtained, either of death of the voter or his moving out of the county, but change of address cannot be made unless the voter notifies the county clerk of the new address.

Change Of Name
Persons who have changed their name by marriage or court order are required to register. The huge task of checking registration records at their homes began June 7 with assistance of a crew of college students home on vacation, and final mailings of the new voter identification cards were made last week. Miss Hotz reported.

The number of cards undeliverable at the addresses shown is growing, Miss Hotz reported. Registration cards are removed from the permanent files in her office where evidence is obtained, either of death of the voter or his moving out of the county, but change of address cannot be made unless the voter notifies the county clerk of the new address.

"Introduction of our compact Lancer will mark the second time within a year that Dodge has put a totally new car on the market," Farrington said.

Deeds Necessary For Permits On Kerr Island

Due to the city's approval of a Kerr Island plan, applicants for building permits in that area will be required to show a deed to their land, the Venice city council decided after a discussion Friday night.

Each such permit also will be checked to make sure that it conforms with the lot boundaries as specified on the plat. Mayor John E. Lee urged action on the plat, saying this action would be assumed in accepting the plan. The acceptance did not include Kerr Island streets, some of which have buildings and other obstructions in the designated traffic lanes.

Building Inspector Arlie Abbott informed the council that continued progress is being made toward elimination of buildings declared fire hazards by the city.

The council accepted from the Madison school district a 15x 110-foot area and dedicated it as an alley. It connects with Mercedia street midway between Douglas and College streets.

At a later meeting, the city plans to vacate a 15x113-foot alley connecting with College street, currently covered by the new Blair grade school opened this fall. Madison School Attorney Austin Lewis was present to represent the district in offering the alternate alley area. It has already been resurfaced, he reported.

A fifth payment was approved for the Whiting-Turner Co., which is remodeling the city-owned McKinley Bridge. Totaling $62,800, the bill increases to $209,995 the amount paid to the contractor.

The council also paid $12,839 to General Contracting Co., increasing to $129,973 the amount paid for resurfacing of Broadway: $1133 to Sheppard, Morgan and Schwaab for Broadway engineering services; and $492 to the Sheppard firm for Broadway inspections.

An August bridge traffic report showed 346,302 crossings for a daily average of 11,171. Bridge records showed 163,788 vehicles on Aug. 1-15 and 182,314 on Aug. 16-31.

Ministers Urge 'Church Night' On Wednesdays

The Tri-City Ministerial Association has requested that the various community organizations reserve Wednesday night as a "church night" in the community and that all civic and social organizations schedule their activities on other nights to avoid conflicts. It was announced Tuesday.

Plans are being made for a Reformation Day service to be held at the Granite City high school auditorium Sunday, Oct. 30, from 2:30 to 3:45 p.m. The speaker will be announced later.

Also planned is a cooperative leadership education school for the five Tuesday nights in November. There will be monthly seminars held for local ministers to discuss contemporary theological issues.

Good light aids grades

With good lighting, plus a well-planned home study center, children do their homework faster and easier.

Your child's teacher or principal would encourage you to provide your child with a regular place to study. It should be as private as your home permits. Proper lighting is important.

Proper lighting means providing the right amount of light, properly diffused to prevent glare and eye strain. At the left are two simple home lighting formulas. Either will assure your child a running start toward good grades.

Way Children Are Treated Affects Their Mental Health

"Children should be treated as children, not as 'adults.' That was the seemingly obvious advice that Mrs. Jo Crouch, psychiatric social worker at Granite City's mental health clinic, offered to parents this week.

However, she continued, a great many parents in today's age of specialization and "hurry up... hurry up" pace of living apparently have forgotten the simple wisdom known to their grandparents living in a pre-atom-bomb-conscious world.

The result in numerous instances is an insecure child who is disturbed by the feeling that he or she is not really loved for himself, alone, but only for his ability to perform... get the highest marks in school, be the best athlete or excel in behavior. And it is usually the naturally-bright child who feels the impact of these greater demands most keenly.

Forms Of Rebellion
Faced with these excessive demands over an extended period, the youngsters' unconscious rebellion may take the form of stuttering, destructiveness, nightmares, excessive napping, and the inability to get along with other children.

And this is where "play-therapy," Mrs. Crouch feels, can be an effective means bringing to light subconscious resentments which can then be discussed with the child's parents to help establish, or return to, a normal family relationship.

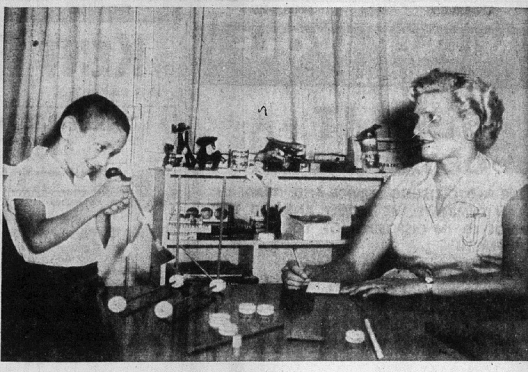

Just as an artist uses paint and canvas to express his inner urge for creativity, so the Madison County Mental Health Clinic uses representative toys to bring out the true feelings of a child with problems. In one sense, play therapy may be likened to manual skill tests used by the armed services to determine an applicant's ability to adapt himself to rapidly changing situations.

Perhaps the best explanation, though, Mrs. Crouch said, is the similarity of play therapy to dreams.

Expression Of Anxiety
"Everyone dreams," she said, "and whether the dreams are remembered in vivid detail or just fade away upon awakening is immaterial." The point is that dreams are thought to be a camouflaged means of expressing anxieties, frustrations, problems or other thoughts mentally projected by a person during sleep.

"Play therapy is like the dream process," Mrs. Crouch explained, "with the exception that the youngster goes through the fantasy while fully awake, many times indicating suppressed resentment or fears by the manner in which she or he plays with dolls, clay, finger paint, puppets, 'unkie tops' and other devices that permit a great deal of creativity and self-expression.

Illustrating her argument, Mrs. Crouch drew a case history from her files. It concerned Eddie (fictitious name), a 13-year-old boy brought to the clinic by his father. Eddie was truant, disobedient, and unable to get along with children his own age.

PLAY THERAPY in action as a non-client, six-year-old Edward Mercer, son of the mental health clinic's receptionist, Mrs. Harriet Mercer, successfully completes a problem under the observation of the psychiatric social worker, Mrs. Jo Crouch.

Both the father and son were seen by therapists. It was gradually learned that the boy, of an artistic nature, had been constantly told by both parents to measure up to expected standards in mathematics and science courses but excelled in literary and artistic pursuits.

Eddie, unable to stand toe-to-toe with his father or effectively plead his own defense, took the logical way out for youngsters of his age group. His symptoms of frustration were shown by petty disobedience, playing truant from school and being quarrelsome with playmates.

In play therapy, these symptoms were readily observed, Mrs. Crouch said. And they were explained in later consultations with the father.

It was pointed out that Eddie should be allowed to build his own life, expressing himself as an individual along the lines of his chief interest.

His business and normal relations for the whole family could be best achieved by not attempting to dominate Eddie, forcing him into a career mold for which he was totally unsuited and where, at best, perhaps, he would prove only mediocre.

Reach "Peace Treaty"
Realizing this finally, Mrs. Crouch added, both father and son stopped their regular visits to the clinic. An emotional peace treaty had been signed in which each had a great deal more understanding and respect for the other.

"That is just one example of aid through play therapy," the psychiatric social worker said. "We have had parents," she continued, "who say they can't see how 'play' can be of help to their child. Actually, it is what happens to the youngster through play, as he or she builds a trusting relationship with the visitor, which helps greatly in building toward a happier and more secure life."

Attend Meeting Of Home Council In Wisconsin
Mrs. August H. Beckman, 2125 Lynch avenue, and Mrs. Clara Schilling, Rural Route One, returned Thursday from Madison, Wis., where they attended a meeting of the National Home Demonstration Council at the University of Wisconsin. The Home Demonstration Council in Illinois is known as the Home Council.

Approximately 4000 women from throughout the United States were present, including 19 from Madison county who made the trip by bus.

Mrs. Gerda Van Beekoff of The Netherlands, president of the Associated Country Women of the World, was present and "Alice in Dairyland of Wisconsin" was on hand to greet the visitors. Greetings also were extended from Gov. Gaylord A. Nelson, and announcement was made of the next meeting, to be held in Bangor, Me., in 1961.

Qued-City Cub Leaders
Three Qued-City cub scout leaders will meet at the Wilson avenue school tonight at 7:30 for their monthly roundtable. John Day, assistant district commissioner, will lead the theme discussion, "Fire Detectives."

Packs included on the program are St. John Pack Three, St. Joseph Seven, Frohman PTA 22, Nemolet Presbyterian 91, Webster PTA 20, Nemolet Kiwanis 96 and Sacred Heart 18. Wilson Pack 122 will be host and serve refreshments. Craft training will be given by Mrs. Margaret Vredek for the attending den mothers.

August Rain Almost Wasn't; 1.13-Inch Here During Month

A scant 1.13 inches of rain fell in the Quad-Cities during August, lowest total of the year, according to the rain gauge maintained by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers at the Chain of Rocks canal locks.

Last year, the situation was reversed. A rainfall of 3.92 inches made August the wettest month of the year. And two years ago, in 1958, some 4.13 inches of moisture were recorded.

Total rainfall for the year is now at 21.52 inches, only slightly less than normal. At this time last year, the year's rainfall stood at 19.12, and in 1958 the rain gauge showed an abnormally high 29.59 for the first eight months.

Most on Aug. 6, 7, 19. Most of the rain last month came on three days, but even then the amount was tiny. Small amounts of moisture were recorded on four other days, and traces of precipitation were less than one hundredth of an inch—were reported on five days.

Breakdown for the past month shows: Aug. 1 to Aug. 3; dry; traces of rain Aug. 4-5; Aug. 6, .31 inch; 45 inch; Aug. 7, dry Aug. 8; .03 inch; Aug. 9; dry Aug. 10-13; Aug. 14, .01 inch; trace, Aug. 15; dry Aug. 16-18; Aug. 19, .20 inch; dry Aug. 20; Aug. 21, .02 inch; dry Aug. 22-28; trace Aug. 29; Aug. 30, .01 inch; and trace on Aug. 31.

Rainfall records for month for 1960 show: January, 1.30 inches; February, 1.37; March, 2.73; April, 2.86; May, 4.27; June, 4.39; July, 3.47; and the August figure of 1.13 inches.

Division Commander
His Air Force ROTC unit at the University of Illinois in 1959, 60, Edward L. Gieszmann, 211, Collinsville, formerly of Granite City, will enter the school of technology at the university to study toward his master's degree. A second lieutenant in the regular Air Force but not yet on active duty, he attended the Sacred Heart school and Granite City high school before moving about five years ago.

Age Proof Available From Census Bureau
Quad-City residents needing proof of age probably will be able to obtain it from the U. S. Commerce Department's Bureau of the Census. Last year, 6272 residents of Illinois turned in needed proof of age in proving they were born.

These persons were among an estimated 30 million United States residents who are without proof of age or birth. The historical records of the census bureau provide the only source of this information for most of these 30 million.

Proof of age or birth is needed today to collect social security and other retirement benefits. It is needed to obtain passports. It is needed to qualify for job carrying certain age or citizenship requirements. And it is needed for some forms of insurance.

Since 1920, the bureau has provided more than 3,500,000 persons with copies of their census records on age, place of birth, citizenship or kinship. Persons seeking such records of facts about themselves should write to the Personal and Service Branch, Bureau of the Census, Pittsburgh, Kan., for a Census Records Search Application Form.

A fee of $3 is charged for a search of not more than two censuses for one person and for one copy of the information found. Additional copies cost $1 each. An expedited search costs $4. Expedited searches are usually completed within a few days, while the routine $3 search may take up to 30 days, depending upon the backlog of requests and the ease or difficulty in locating the information.

The personal information in the records of the 1900 and later censuses is confidential by law and may be furnished only upon the written request of the person to whom it relates or, for a proper purpose, a legal representative, such as guardian or administrator of an estate. Information regarding a child who has not reached legal age may be obtained upon the written request of either parent.

Both Drivers Arrested After Crash On Edison
Both drivers were arrested by Granite City police after a collision on Edison avenue at 26th street at 11:46 p.m. Thursday.

John Schmitt, 33, of 2217 Fehling road, traveling north on Edison avenue, was arrested for careless driving. The other driver, Robert D. Harris, 17, of 2916 Pershing avenue, eastbound on 26th street, was charged with failing to yield right-of-way. Each posted his driver's license as bond.

Some may think you are forgotten. Though on earth you are no more. But in memory you are with us as you always were before. Sadly missed by your loving family and friends. 9-6
